EMPOWERING LEADERS FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

Mastering the Challenges of Global Companies

As the pace of globalization accelerates, sustainability becomes increasingly important for businesses worldwide. The world requires leaders and managers who understand the complexities of international markets, uphold responsible developments, and steer their organizations toward a sustainable future.

The study program International Business Management & Sustainability (IBS) equips you with essential skills through a comprehensive Curriculum covering general Management, sustainability, leadership, processes, and international business. Join us to become a visionary leader, fostering sustainable practices and guiding organizations to success in a dynamic global landscape.

STUDY PROGRAM & CURRICULUM

IBS Study Program Features

IBS study program includes international study trips for exposure to diverse cultures and business practices, an exclusive innovation lounge platform with renowned industry experts, personalized individual and group coaching, female empowerment initiatives, and German language courses to improve linguistic proficiency. In addition, a unique two-day workshop at a monastery facilitates personal reflection and development, ensuring a wellrounded educational experience.

In collaboration with our Swedish sustainable company partner, the sustainable capstone project offers students an opportunity to engage in hands-on project work while attending workshops led by experienced instructors, ensuring a broad and in-depth preparation to succeed in the global arena.

The MBA program offers students an opportunity to obtain a double degree by completing their third and fourth semesters at the partner university, British Columbia Institute of Technology (BCIT) in Vancouver.

Driving Success for 15+ Years: Balancing Family Life, Practical Learning, and Career Advancement

At our institution, we prioritize harmonizing family, career, and academic pursuits. Our course schedules are designed for optimal convenience, primarily taking place on Friday afternoons and Saturdays, and ensuring no classes occur during school breaks. Moreover, our dedicated study program management provides comprehensive support throughout your educational journey.

The study program fosters an intimate learning experience by emphasizing small-group size. This approach cultivates a familial atmosphere, while also prioritizing practical, application-focused assessments over traditional written examinations. The curriculum is tailored to equip students with skills directly applicable to their future professional endeavors.
